

Model-predicted lines should resemble observed data

Reference line should be flat and horizontal

Reference line should be flat and horizontal

Points should be inside the contour lines

High collinearity (VIF) may inflate parameter uncertainty el-predicted data — Observed data — Observed data

Dots should fall along the line

